

Taking care of your Mala

Thank you for your Bliss Body Soul purchase! I hope you're happy with your new Mala.

In order to keep your Mala in great condition, keep away from lotions, sunscreen and do not get wet.

Please keep in mind that these are meant for meditation and/or to honor your intentions. Necklaces and bracelets are not meant to be worn during your yoga practice however they can be kept close by as a reminder of your intention or personal mantra.

Over time, tassels may become crinkled. If this occurs, carefully hold tassel over steaming water and use your fingers to flatten it out again. This should do the trick!

Bracelets are pre-stretched; but still be careful when putting them on or taking them off. Roll them, as opposed to stretching them over an open hand.

Please remember to take care of such personal handmade items.
